Introducing “Dunbar Security Products”

Former Dunbar BankPak subsidiary changes business name as product selection grows

HUNT VALLEY, MD – January 10, 2011 – The Dunbar Companies, based in Hunt Valley, Maryland, parent of Dunbar Armored, Inc., America’s largest independently-owned armored car and cash management services company, have announced that the name of their “Dunbar BankPak” subsidiary has changed to “Dunbar Security Products.” Since 1987, when the business unit began as a distributor of tamper-evident plastic bank deposit bags, the company has grown, evolved and innovated to become an international “one-stop-shop” for meeting customers’ cash handling needs with online product ordering that accounts for most of its sales.

“This important name change reflects the fact that this business unit – world-renowned for providing the highest quality in secure plastic bank deposit bags and banking supplies like checks and deposit tickets – now provides a much wider and more diverse range of security-related products,” said Kevin R. Dunbar, President and CEO. “With the addition of the latest products in counterfeit detection, money counting, document shredding and “Do-It-Yourself” Security Systems, “Dunbar Security Products” more accurately describes our business of providing customers with an array of security solutions that improve productivity and profitability while at the same time delivering peerless customer service,” he added.

Headquartered in Baltimore, Maryland with sales offices in Denver, Chicago and Boston, newly renamed Dunbar Security Products has served the financial, cash-in-transit, retail and gaming industries with high-quality security products for over two decades.
